

International Society for
Maxillofacial Rehabilitation

An Interdisciplinary Organization

Your Membership in the ISMR

Building the ISMR as a strong international body to represent and provide you with professional opportunities is integral to bringing the best care to your patients. The ISMR has been structured to be a future-oriented organization that is focused on the needs of its members. We invite you to become part of the unique ISMR international movement to bring an interdisciplinary approach to head and neck related patient care. To realize this, developing a strong membership body that is involved and brings support to grow the ISMR is essential.
